

Perfect Match Worksheet & Sample

Overview/ Instructions

It is important that you fill in your preferences for every single category. While all categories carry a lot of value, keep in mind that these topics are considered the top three reasons most people get divorces:

1. Money
2. Lack of sexual compatibility
3. Children

None of the “Characteristics” shown in the first columns below are “carved in stone.” They are simply suggestions to get you thinking. You can delete any or all of them and add your own. This is about you, not me.

Be sure to add the “Deal breaker” indicator. What this means is that there is no way you could live with someone who has this behavior or characteristic. For instance, I’d never marry anyone less than 6’ tall. And I’d never marry a smoker. Those are “dealbreakers.”

Ironically, most everything I put in my list was a dealbreaker other than dancing. After three divorces, I was in no mood to be flexible with my own personal wants and needs. And you shouldn’t be either. My husband met every single criteria (except dancing) and we’ve been very happily married since 2003.

So, if you’re looking for a lifetime of happiness with a single partner, I highly recommend you be just as picky. Otherwise, you’ll always get what you settle for.

One thing I'd like to point out, in case you haven't noticed, is that "Interests and Hobbies" are at the end. But, as you go through this worksheet you'll start to notice how many other things are so much more important in a relationship than hobbies. That realization is going to be your most valuable step in finding your perfect mate.

Be sure to check out the sample at the end for help.

Lastly, be honest with yourself! Probably the hardest thing to do, right? But, I can assure you, you won't regret it. Now, get started!

Sincerely,

Jan
